Will You Find Your Ideal Therapy Practice Online?

By Thomas and Ameer Lecoq

You can find anything online these days. Now you can even get the help you need to build the practice you've always wanted.

.Access: We've opened a portal you can enter to learn how to develop every aspect of your practice. We're offering you the management, marketing, personnel, even financial information that you need to start or expand therapy.

Free stuff: Visit www.idealvt.com and click Downloads. Every month or so we will post materials, guides, or even demonstrations to help you start, build or expand your practice. We'll often post videos you can watch to learn the best way to use the free items.

Answers: Every OD has concerns they'd like to discuss with experts. We bet you do too. You can email Thomas direct at idealvt@verizon.net and expect an answer either by phone or email. Or call him direct at 949-244-3214.

E-Letter: You can also sign up for our opt-in newsletter. Every month or so you'll receive your copy with useful, original information. Plus you'll get to read the questions and answers we've provided others, questions you might not have thought to ask. We'll notify you of the new items we've added to our free Downloads section.

For example, we recently posted our famous Up-Down Reader with an instructional video on how to use it. Free! What will we give away next? Call or email if you have a suggestion.

Facebook: Oh yes, we're on Facebook as well. Search Lecoq Practice Development and you'll find us. Click "Like" to be included in the exchanges of ideas and useful connections. Be first to know the latest news and information about practice development.

Courses: We offer our amazing More Patients Breakthrough Course in many locations at various times of the year. Visit www.idealvt.com or click events on our Facebook page to find one that works for you. Read course reviews so you can make an informed choice about enrolling.

Free Phone Consultation: To get your practice to a new level, call to set up a free phone consultation. Tap our 3 decades of experience. Callers are always pleased with the practical guidance they receive. And, we are always eager to help new ODs or optometry students get started.
